

Corporate Research Forum International Conference – Budapest 2010

Helen Pitcher, Chairman of IDDAS, was invited as a speaker at this year's Corporate Research Forum International Conference in Budapest. Speaking about Accelerating Individual Performance through Coaching, Helen discussed how board level performance coaching leverages and accelerates achievement and goal attainment, and thus improves business results.

The conference was held in Budapest this year on the 13th and 14th October and was dedicated to the topic of performance improvement. This was an opportunity for both individuals and organisations to engage in debates and learn about the given subject.

The Corporate Research Forum is a corporate members' only organisation dedicated to enhancing organisational effectiveness. They work with more than 100 international members, engaging and collaborating with industry thought leaders to build an innovative rolling programme of research and learning events.
